FOREWORD

What is a school? It is a building, a place; it is an organization, a beehive of regulated activity; it is an idea and an ideal; but most of all, it is people--students and faculty--for without these people there would be no school.

The 1963 JEB is a reflection of these people--their work, their play, and their lives at school. It has been created so that we, who have a part in making Stuart High all the things it is, may look back and remember . . . . .

On The Hill

On the Hill students come seeking many things. Each brings an assortment of beliefs and ambitions by which each student's life is patterned. We bring together our values to form a common ideal.

Days on the Hill are numbered--both for those who sought and found and for those whose quest is yet unsatisfied. Cherished thoughts are many as we recall our rewards for work well done, our enthusiasm for extra-curricular activities, and our goal for graduation. Each day brings another challenge, another trial, or an attainment. On the Hill we have an obligation to school, teachers, parents, and to ourselves. The story of what we have done and what we are doing to fulfill this obligation is told in the words and seen in the pictures of this book.

This, then, is the story of our DAYS ON THE HILL in this year 1963 at Stuart High School.

THE STORY OF OUR LIFE

Studying is a habit, a good habit to practice, if practiced in the correct way. Most people learn to study in high school. A high school senior or junior who does not know how to study is in trouble. We should not only study our school subject assignments, but we should study ourselves for evaluation. We should constantly seek to improve ourselves and to improve our lives. "Studies serve for delight, ornament, and ability."

Robert Penn writes and balances the equation for the electrolysis of water.

WE DEVOTE THESE YEARS TO CONSCIENTIOUS STUDY

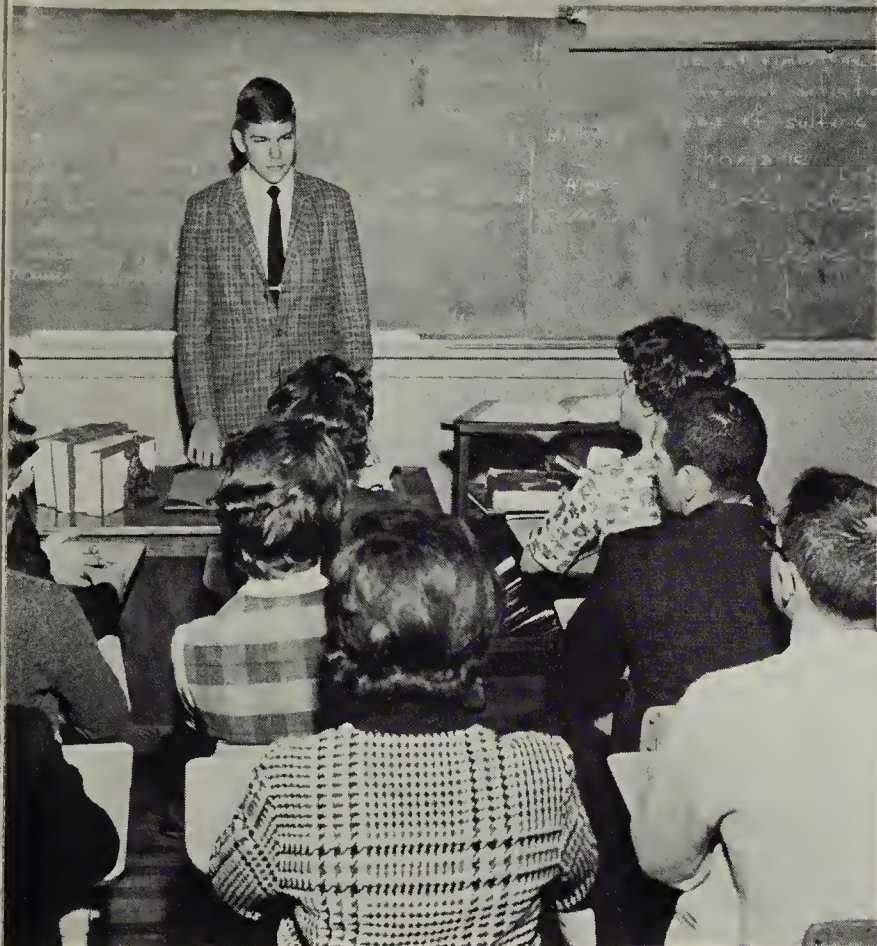

Mrs. Dickerson explains some troublesome Latin verbs.

Mysteries of science are discussed with the Senior Science class by Mr. Biggs.

Pat Hughes, President of the S.C.A., conducts a S.C.A. meeting.

Fourth period Government class listens to the news being reported by Jimmy Greer.

FOR HERE ARE MOLDED LEADERS OF TOMORROW

Is a leader born or made? Certainly, a student has unlimited opportunities to exercise his leadership abilities in high school. If leaders are made, high school offers many various opportunities for ambitious students to excel. One cannot become a leader in an instant. He must build and build, and work his way up. Thus, leaders of tomorrow are molded in the high school. A leader sets the example and sometimes influences many. Not only should we seek to be good leaders but also good followers.

The cheerleaders ask, "Well you don't mean fight?
That's right!"

The crowd watches as two points are made for Stuart.

We push steadily onward. A challenge is constantly before us. There is always a frontier to conquer. We march onward, with banners waving, heads held high. Enthusiasm, optimism, and determination push us forward. "If once we fall, we fight again to win." Overcoming interfering obstacles, we push steadily ahead, and find that experience is the best teacher. A mistake is not often repeated . . . integrity and self-improvement are goals attempted and nothing is impossible. We don't give up easily--we don't take the coward's way out; we seek the best or better than the best. The challenge enfolds us, surrounds us, envelopes us, meets us face to face. Will we timidly slink back down the forsaken hill, or will we push steadily onward and upward?

SPORTS ARE A PART OF EDUCATIONAL ADVANCEMENT . . .

The girls' team and cheerleaders join for fifteen rahs in the victory circle.

Sports add the spark to a school. Interscholastic sports create rivalry among schools. Rivalry enables participants and fans to display and test their sportmanship. Athletics sometimes distinguish one school from another. Excitement, enthusiasm, and fairness are especially exercised in participating in sports or sitting on the side lines.

Jimmy Greer goes in for a lay-up.

STRENGTHENING OUR CHARACTER IN VICTORY AND DEFEAT

ACTIVITIES ENCOURAGE US TO DEVELOP SOCIALLY . . .

Some people seem to think that school is all work and no play, but it isn't. There is time for participating in extra activities, for private conversations, and for meeting and making new friends. All these things combine to make school a very interesting place.

Bill, what's the occasion for the toast?

Curtis and Judy take a "break" between classes.

Physical education classes enjoy dancing on Fridays.

AS OUR FACULTY LEADS US THROUGH THIS YEAR

1963 On The Hill

Mrs. Pilson and Mrs. Staples are preparing work for the students.

Our teachers on the Hill lead a busy life. Teaching classes and grading papers make up only a small part of their duties. They must also be able to answer hundreds of questions, make the classes interesting, and guide the students in the right way. They are called on to help with such activities as the Christmas Social, Homecoming, beauty pageant, and many others. When the dismissal bell rings, their work still continues. They must go home to cook supper for their families, come back to a P.T.A. meeting or ballgame, or prepare for the next day's classes.

Mrs. Law points out an interesting news item to Mrs. Hopkins and Mrs. Tatum.

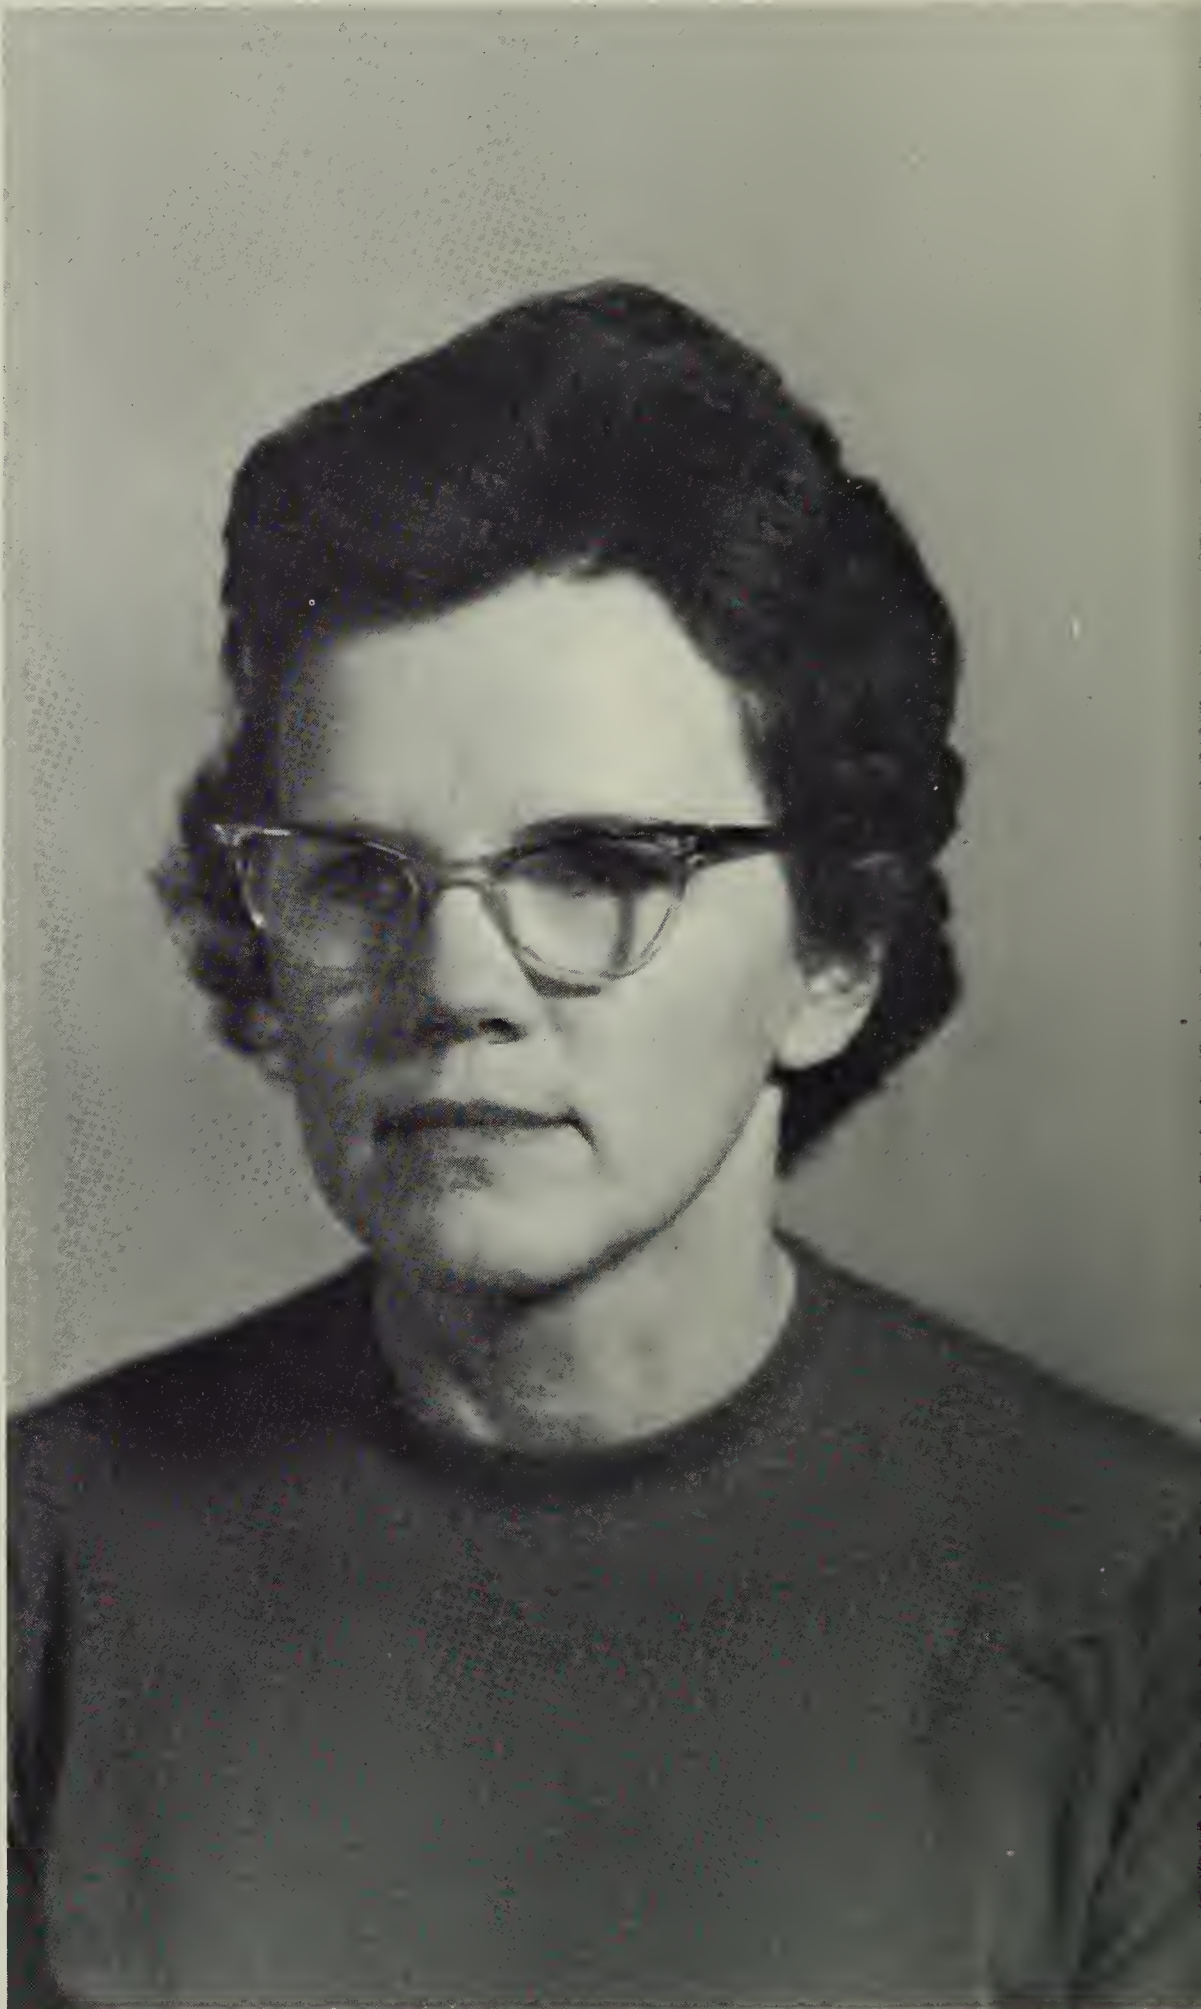

Mrs. Vernon is always busy at her typewriter.

We Gratefully Dedicate . . .

We the staff of the 1963 JEB gratefully dedicate this issue to one whom we have come to know and respect for the interest she generates in her classes, for her warmth and friendliness toward every student, for her patience and understanding whenever a friend is needed, and for the work she has done for us and with us during our days on the Hill. Whenever we look back on these days, we will remember her to have been one who helped make them the most unforgettable ones of our lives. Therefore, we dedicate this issue to our teacher and friend, Mrs. Jessie Vernon.

"The man in charge" on the Hill is Mr. W. B. Watkins, our principal, whose fine leadership is evident in every phase of school activity. He has been largely responsible for making our school what it is and what it will be in days to come.

Mr. J. C. Bledsoe is our assistant principal and our coach. His abilities are easily recognized in Stuart High's athletic program.

Mr. J. V. Law, Superintendent, portrays the role of supervisor, executive, organizer, and community leader. His duties are many: to discover educational needs, to see how fully the school system ministers to the needs, to educate the people as to the larger needs of their school.

Our elementary principal is Mr. E. R. Greer. Under his able direction, students progress toward the challenges of high school.

OUR HIGH SCHOOL FACULTY CONSISTS

Stuart High School's staff of dedicated teachers makes it possible for students to receive much valuable knowledge and to develop many useful skills while in high school. Each teacher is a specialist in his field, and each is well qualified to instruct the students. These teachers introduce new subjects and review familiar ones in an interesting manner. We at Stuart are proud of our fine staff of high school teachers.

FEATURES

The Features Section of the JEB is a showcase for some of the important events and outstanding students that crowd our memories of this year at Stuart High.

Amid shudders of suspense, "oohs" and "ahs" of surprise, and an occasional groan of disappointment or indignation, the judges make their decision, and Miss Stuart High is chosen.

Students buying annuals earn the right to vote for Miss Jeb.

The basketball team chooses six contestants for Homecoming Queen. The students vote. Who has won? No one knows 'til the Homecoming Dance.

The Juniors are the hosts for the Junior-Senior Banquet, knowing that next year they'll be on the receiving end of the hospitality.

With a tree, practically buried under presents, and mistletoe hanging everywhere, the Christmas Social has to be (and is) a tremendous success.

Everyone pitches in with everything from pennies to dollars to help select the F.F.A. sweetheart.

A very high honor is bestowed on the girl chosen as D.A.R. Good Citizen.

The Betty Crocker Homemaker Award is given to a senior girl who has achieved recognition in the field of Home Economics.

The Junior Marshals have the honor of participating in graduation activities.

Girls' and Boys' State Representatives gain experience and a knowledge of how their government works.

This section closes with a group of snapshots. Let these remind us of some pleasant moments we have spent and unforgettable people we have met during . . .

BEAUTY PAGEANT . . .

The "Miss Jeb" contest is sponsored by the Jeb Staff each year. Each class selects a candidate for Miss Jeb. Each high school student buying an annual is permitted to vote for his choice. This year Janie Doss, the sophomore candidate, received the title of Miss Jeb 1963.

Runner-up - Judy Conner

The "Miss Stuart High" beauty pageant is sponsored annually by the Beta Club. The theme of the pageant this year was "Winter Wonderland." Many lovely contestants participated and Polly Flippin, a sophomore, was crowned Miss Stuart High '63 by Anne Watkins, Miss Stuart High '62. Judy Conner, also a sophomore, was selected as runner-up.

BASKETBALL HOMECOMING . . .

Homecoming Queen-Carol Williams

One of the most awaited occasions of the year was the Homecoming game and dance, sponsored by the S. C. A. After an exciting game the alumni and students gathered in the cafeteria which had been most effectively decorated to carry out the theme "Man Into Space." The Homecoming Queen, chosen by the student body, was Carol Williams escorted by Roger Anderson. The members of her court and their escorts were Judy Morrison and Robert Penn, Jane Hughes and Pat Hughes, Mary Alice Akers and Aaron Blackard, Joanne Hill and Ronnie Wood, and Lane Martin and Bill West.

The Court and their escorts lead the first dance.

SPORTS

The athletic program of Stuart High School is one of the most important parts of school life, for it is around our various athletic teams that much of our school spirit centers. Everyone looks forward to each new year of sports activity in anticipation of fun to be had, victories to be won, and glory to be brought to S.H.S.

The big sport at Stuart High is basketball. Stuart always boasts of both a fine boys' team and a fine girls' team and this year is no exception. To the teams fall the responsibility of representing the school in athletics by upholding traditions of good sportsmanship and fair play; to the cheerleaders, the job of leading the fans to encourage the team; and to the students, the obligation of showing good sportsmanship and supporting the teams. Everyone has done his part to make this year's basketball season a success.

In the spring, our young men's fancies turn to thoughts of baseball, and Stuart High's baseball team goes into action. Prospects are good, and this season should be an outstanding one.

And so, with pennants waving and cheers ringing in our ears, we readily agree that athletics are very much a part of . . .

ORGANIZATIONS

Stuart High School has ten active organizations, which provide opportunities for students to participate in many and varied types of activities, broadening their horizons and enriching their school lives. The benefits afforded to the school and the students by these organizations make them a worthwhile part of our scholastic program.

These groups are headed by the Student Council which is the executive branch of our Student Cooperative Association. The S.C.A. coordinates student activities.

The Beta Club emphasizes high scholastic achievement.

The Latin Club promotes the enjoyment of our Roman heritage.

The Coed Hi-Y Club helps enrich us spiritually.

The Future Farmers train boys in vocational agriculture.

The Future Homemakers educate girls for competence in homemaking.

The Monogram Club emphasizes our athletic program.

The Library Club members serve the school by working in the library.

The Boys' and Girls' 4-H Clubs teach leadership in many fields.

The JEB Staff prepares this yearbook.

Our lives as students are made fuller by our participation in these groups, for they are a most important part of . . .

GUIDING PRINCIPLES ARE SET UP

The Student Cooperative Association is the student government of the school. It is composed of the entire student body and the Council is made up of S.C.A. officers and Home Room Representatives.

This school year has been a busy one for the S.C.A. The work started in the summer of '62 with the planning and processing of the school handbooks. At the opening of school, the S.C.A. had the opening day assembly and oriented the first graders. They were in charge of and sponsored the Christmas Social. Candy was sold in order to make money for the Homecoming which was held in February.

The S.C.A. took charge of the book store for the school year and sent delegates to the State Convention and to the S.C.A. Workshop.

Teachers and students work together to make Christmas Social a success.

BETA CLUB AWARDS MEMBERSHIP

Character, scholarship, leadership -- these form the basis of membership requirements in the Stuart Chapter of the National Beta Club. Promoting these ideals, it rewards meritorious achievement, and encourages students to continue their education after high school. Some interesting projects of the Beta Club this year were sponsoring the annual beauty pageant, collecting food for a needy family at Thanksgiving, purchasing clothes for needy children at Christmas, and preparing a bulletin board every month.

CLUB LATINA . . .

Club Latina agrees with the orator Cicero that "Not to know what happened before you were born is to always remain a child". Its purpose is to increase the understanding and enjoyment of Latin. Its chief projects for the year were a Roman Banquet and an assembly program. Its assembly program this year was a Roman Circus which was held in the gymnasium.

INTERESTING PROJECTS FOR STUDENTS

I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to larger service, and my health to better living for my club, my community, and my country. This is the basis of all work in 4-H, whether in a 4th grade club, in an All-Star Chapter or at National Club Congress. All projects in 4-H are designed to give club members the opportunity to better themselves or to serve "club, school, and community." The project of the Girls' Senior 4-H Club this year is demonstration. These help us share skills and show others better ways of doing things.

OF A HOMEMAKER

The FHA guides and directs the activities which concern the future homemakers in our school. The main projects were sponsoring the United Fund Drive and appropriating money for a Mother-Daughter Social. The desire of this organization is to further interest in home economics and woman leadership in life.

Retiring president, Lane Martin, turns over the gavel to Carol Williams, the new president.

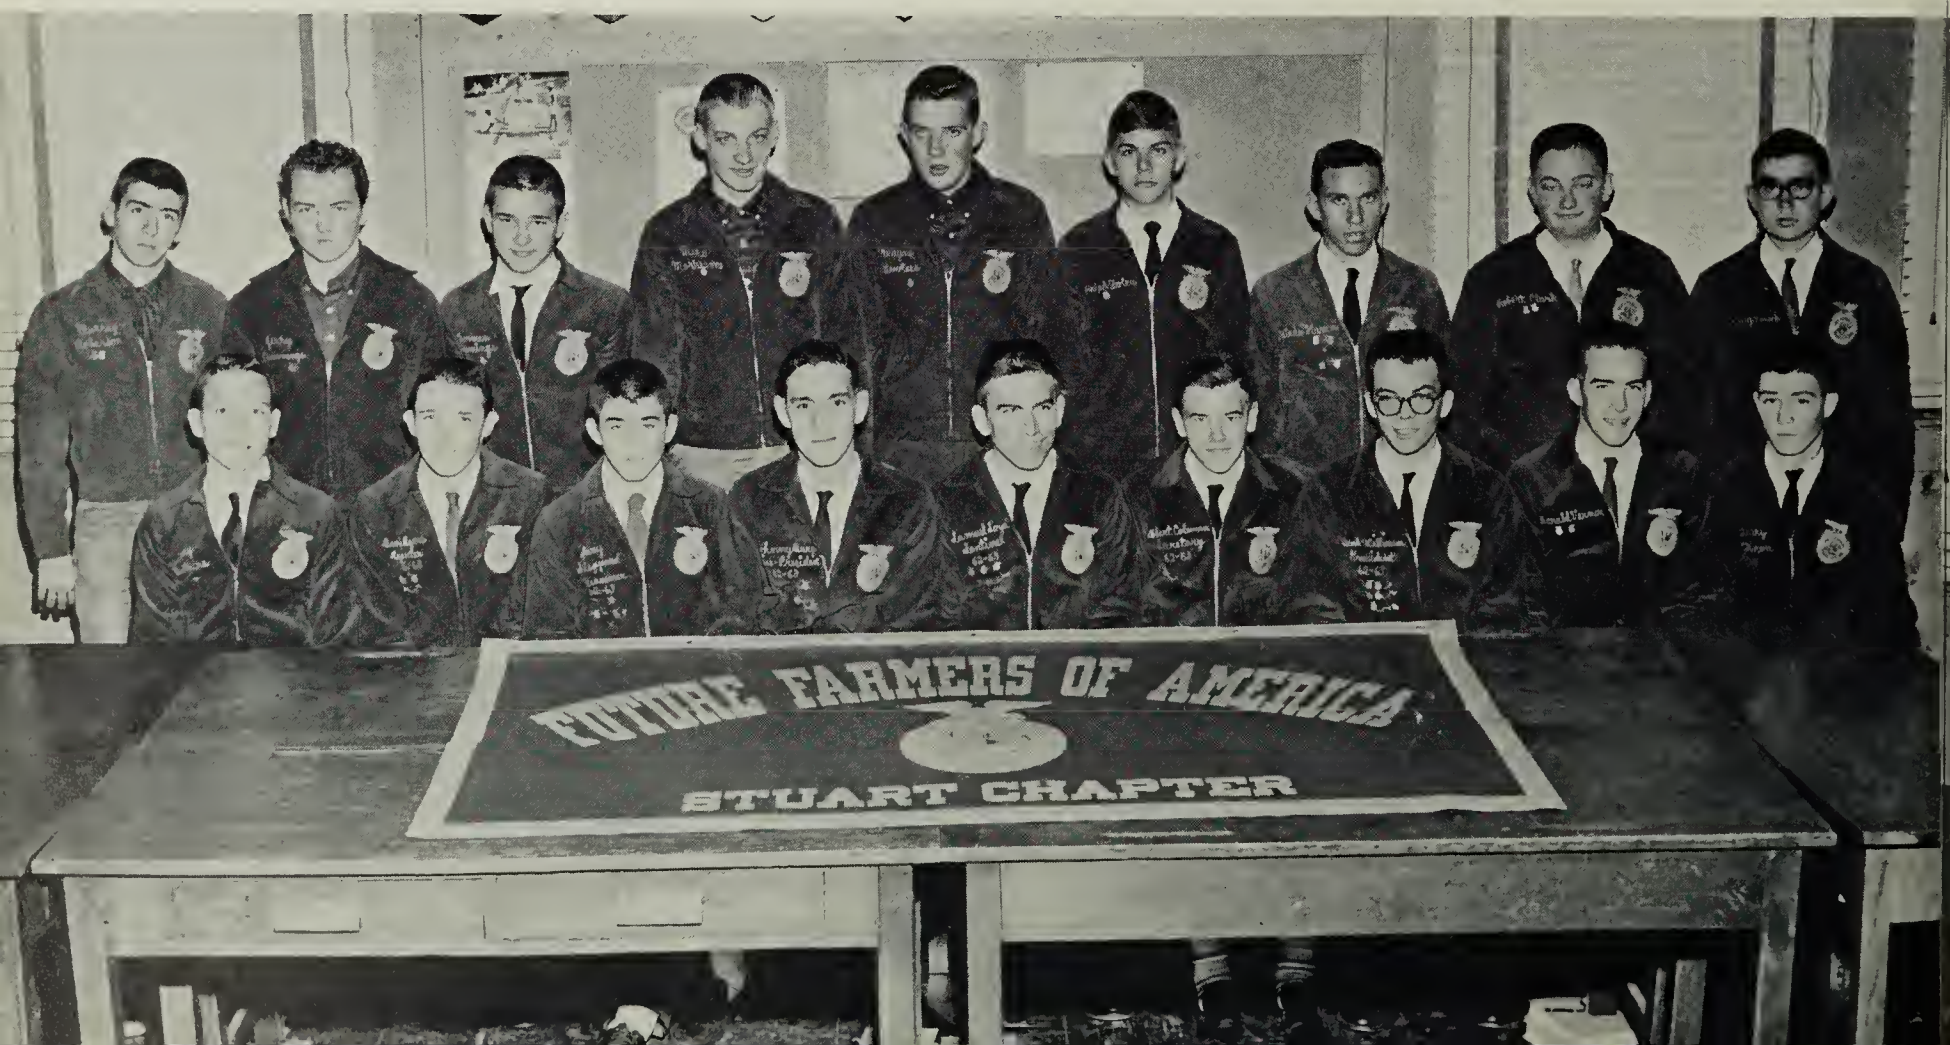

The Future Farmers of American is a national organization for high school students who study vocational agriculture. Its primary aim is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship. As a part of its annual program of work, members compete in federation, area, and state forestry contests, in a degree team contest, public speaking contest, and dairy judging contests.

ATHLETIC PARTICIPATION IS RECOGNIZED BY MONOGRAM CLUB

OFFICERS

Roger Anderson - President, Jimmy Greer - Vice-President,
Lane Martin - Secretary, Mary Alice Akers - Treasurer,
Jane Ashby - Reporter

The athletic program of Stuart High School has advanced greatly in the past years. A need for recognition of our athletes and cheerleaders was seen. For this reason, the Stuart High School Monogram Club was chartered. The purpose of the organization is to give awards to those students who excel in the athletic program. During our school year, the Monogram Club conducts projects such as operating the concession stand at ballgames, striving for better sportsmanship and creating a greater interest in sports.

CLASSES

Many happy hours are spent at Stuart High School. Studying and working claim the major part of all students' time. With a little over nine hundred students in the whole school it is possible to become acquainted with almost every one. However, quality of friendship is as important as quantity. New friends are made in classes, clubs, at ball games, sock hops, and pep rallies. Each year old friends move on either by graduation or by moving out of town. One class must leave every year by graduation. This year the Senior Class has the distinction of being the first class to receive their rings in their senior year. All the members of the class leave with many cherished memories of-

Dear Senior Class of '63:

You are now completing your public education and it is in order to extend to you "Congratulations" for your perseverance and final achievement.

You are standing on the threshold of a new and exciting life. Commencement is truly the beginning -- the beginning of greater accomplishments and greater responsibilities. Some of you will go to college pursuing a higher education to better fit you for life. Others of you will take up your responsibilities in the business world. Wherever you go or whatever vocation you engage in, we hope and pray that the future will be good to each and every one of you. In this connection, you may rest assured that you may depend on us to render the best possible service to you and your community in every way that we know how. Your problems, either insurance or in civic affairs, are of prime interest to us.

Wishing you the best of luck for the future, we are,

Sincerely,

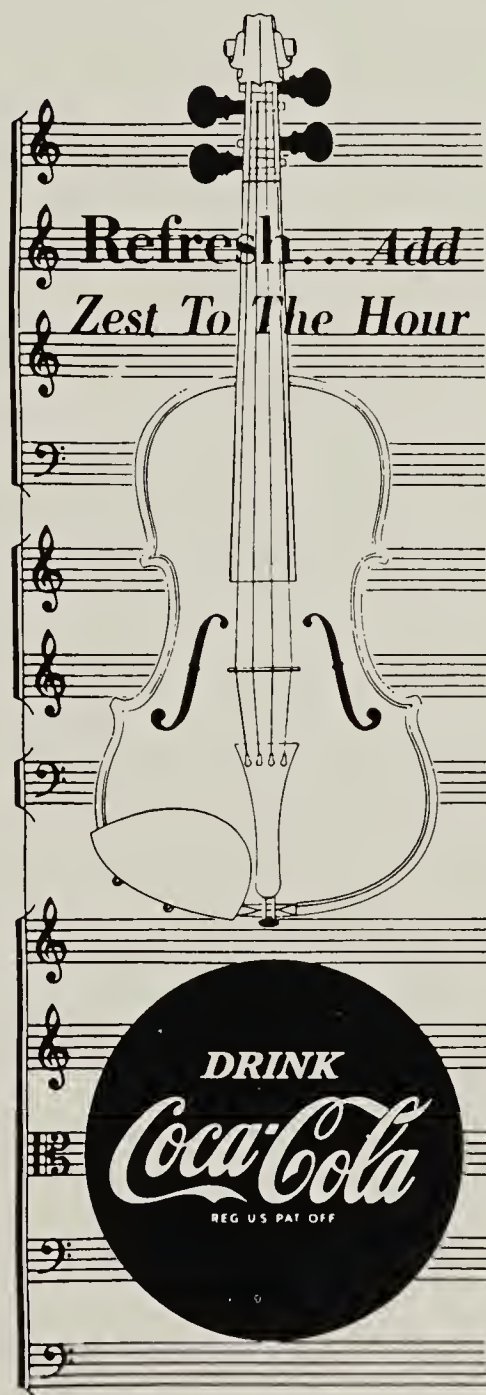

Paris H. Pugh, Owner

OUR Ever-Present CHALLENGE

The prosperity and individual freedoms we enjoy today are hard-earned gifts from our forefathers and must never be taken for granted.

Each new generation must stand on its own feet and preserve these freedoms.

The freedoms we enjoy through the American Way have a high price and must be earned over and over.

W. Somerset Maugham expresses it this way: "If a nation values anything more than freedom, it will lose its freedom; and the irony of it is that if it is comfort or money that it values more, it will lose that, too."
